Details of rated NCDs are provided in Annexure-II.

^ The provisional rating assigned previously is affirmed based on the Finalization of documents such as the Debenture Trust deed, Term Sheet, General Information document, Key Information Document and no major variation observed in draft and Final terms as per these documents.

#The company has issued 16,000 non convertible debenture of face value of Rs. 1,00,000 (Indian Rupees One Lakh) each, aggregating to upto Rs.160.00crs (Indian Rupees One Hundred Sixty Crores) Debentures to India Resurgence fund 2 -Scheme 2 (Allottee 1) and India Resurgence Fund 2 Scheme 2 (Allottee 2) on private placement basis on 1st January 2026 The same has been issued as partly paid up debenture of partly paid up value of Rs.87,500(Indian Rupees eighty seven thousand five only) each, for partly paid up amount of Rs.140.00/-crs (Rs. One hundred Forty crore Only). The coupon payment is quarterly, and the first payment shall be on 5th April 2026.

RATING ACTION / OUTLOOK

Conversion of provisional ratings into Final ratings is based on the Finalization of all documents, such as the Debenture trust deed, Key Information document, General information document, Term sheet and no major variation observed in draft and Final terms as per these documents.

BWR has assigned a provisional rating of BWR B+ to the proposed NCD of Rs 160.00 cr of Steelco Gujarat Ltd, as documents such as the debenture trust deed, term sheet, Key Information document, and General Information document were not finalised and are now finalised; thus, the long-term ratings are affirmed at BWR B+. The outlook has been revised from Stable to Negative, considering there is a delay in stabilisation of operation, and achieving the scale earlier envisaged.

The ratings take into account the successful takeover of the company by new management and the start of operations, Established product line, listing status of the company and also the constraints such as the execution risk during plant recommissioning, weak credit profile due to carry forward losses and dependency on external finances till the operations become sustainable

KEY RATING DRIVERS

Credit Strengths-:

Benefit from Existing Brand Name and Market Recognition:

Steelco Gujarat benefits from its long-standing presence in the steel processing industry, providing it with an established brand recall among customers, suppliers, and channel partners. Its historical operations in cold-rolled and galvanised steel have helped retain market familiarity, which supports the company’s ability to re-enter the market after a prolonged shutdown.

Product Range and Technical Capability:

The company has a diversified product portfolio, and the planned capability to produce ultra-thin steel of 0.1 mm through the Hitachi mill places it in a niche segment with limited domestic competition. This value-added product range is expected to improve margins and enhance Steelco’s competitive positioning once operations stabilise.

Credit Weaknesses-:

Operations Not Yet Fully Started:

The company remains in the early stages of revival, with operations yet to stabilise and full-scale production still pending, exposing it to execution risks during the plant recommissioning phase.

Dependency on External Finance:

SGL's ability to ramp up production and stabilise operations is contingent upon timely funding and support for working capital, refurbishment, and operational needs. This dependence heightens liquidity risks until cash flows from operations become sustainable.

Weak Credit Profile and Refinancing Risk:

The company’s credit profile remains weak with a negative TNW of Rs . 40.70 cr as on 31st March 25, and Rs. 53.22 for H1FY'26, due to losses carried forward from the previous year of operations. The company incurred losses in H1FY26 of Rs. 12.52cr. The improvement in the credit profile will depend on the timely operational ramp-up and consistent revenue generation under the new management.

Analytical Approach and Applicable Criteria: BWR has applied a Standalone approach to arrive at the ratings. Links to applicable criteria are at the bottom of the rationale.

RATING SENSITIVITIES

Positive Sensitivities:

Tangible net worth turning positive and ISCR and DSCR remaining above 1.20 and 1.10, respectively

Negative Sensitivities:

Delay in scaling up and stabilising the operations beyond FY'26 owing to a delay in tying up funding or any other operational reasons

LIQUIDITY INDICATORS: Stretched

The company has successfully recommenced operations under the new management and is concentrating on completing the repair and upgradation work necessary to achieve a sustainable scale of operations. For the fiscal year 2026 (FY'26), the company is anticipated to report negative cash accruals due to the delayed ramp-up of operations. The company has also procured high-cost Non-Convertible Debentures (NCDs), which will provide immediate liquidity; however, interest payments are projected to commence from early FY'27. Upon the scheduled commencement of debt repayment, inclusive of the redemption premium, the company is expected to encounter difficulties in servicing its debt obligations, and the projected Debt Service Coverage Ratio (DSCR) for FY'29 and subsequent years is anticipated to remain below unity. Nevertheless, the company is expected to be able to refinance the debt with relative ease, as operations will be fully established, and the company is projected to have secured a market position by that time.

Company profile:

Macro Economic Indicator	Sector	Industry	Basic Industry
Industrials	Capital Goods	Industrial Products	Iron & Steel Products

Steelco Gujarat is engaged in the production of value-added, colour-coated Cold Rolled Coils and galvanised coils. The company possesses the capacity to process 4,00,000 Metric Tonnes (MT) of Coils per annum, with its manufacturing facility situated in GIDC Estate, Palej District, Bharuch, Gujarat, India.

The company has been operational since 1989 and was listed on the Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) in 1997. The company had previously defaulted on its debt obligations between the fiscal years 2016 and 2019, leading to its subsequent admission to the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) by its financial creditors in 2020. The resolution process for the company was concluded in July 2023, and the company's control was subsequently transferred to Next Orbit Growth Fund III, effective November 2023.

ESG Profile:

Environmental: The environmental profile is evolving, with operations recently recommenced and practices largely expected to be compliance-driven. While the company is presumed to adhere to applicable environmental regulations (no adverse observations reported), limited information is available regarding energy efficiency initiatives, use of renewable energy, and structured water and waste management systems. Exposure to environmental and climate-related risks exists given the nature of the steel processing industry, with mitigation frameworks yet to be fully established. Enhanced focus on sustainability practices and disclosures remains a key monitorable.

Social: The social profile is evolving, supported by expected adherence to statutory labour laws and implementation of basic health and safety measures as operations scale up (assumed Compliant). However, given the nascent stage of operations, limited visibility on formal employee development initiatives, workforce diversity, and community engagement activities constrain the assessment. Strengthening of human capital policies and safety frameworks as operations stabilise will remain important.

Governance: The governance profile is evolving, with the company undergoing transition following acquisition through the insolvency resolution process. The evolving nature of management and dependence on external funding highlight the need for strengthening governance practices, transparency, and internal control systems.
