BWR has principally relied upon the audited financials upto FY15, provisional financials till Dec 31, 2015, publicly available information and information/clarifications provided by the Company's management.

The rating revision has considered the significant experience of the management, strong institutional shareholdings, increased assets portfolio, healthy profitability, capital infusion in FY15 and comfortable capitalization of the company. The rating, however, remains constrained on account of credit concentration risk as top ten NPA assets account for ~84% of the total portfolio and exposure to volatility in earnings profile on account of the asset quality challenges inherent in the asset reconstruction industry
